

What do rays and skates have on their skin?

- a) Hairs
- b) Small toothlike scales
- c) Feathers

What do rays and skates eat?

- a) Seaweed, because they are vegetarian
- b) Sushis from sea
- c) Shrimps, crabs and small fish because they are carnivorous.

All Rays species and skates are marine mammals: TRUE or FALSE?

TRUE AND FALSE!
 Some species of rays and skates lay eggs. They are called oviparous. In other species, babies grow in the mother's belly before birth. They are oviviparous or viviparous. Rays and skates are fish. They do not feed their cubs. They have scales, gills and fins.

TRUE!
 Rays and skates are flat sharks. Like sharks they do not have fishbones but a skeleton made of cartilage.

TRUE!
 Rays and skates of the North Sea and the Channel hide in the sand. With their sandy colours, they can easily hide from predators!

Rays and skates of the North Sea and the Channel live on sandy sea-bottom: TRUE or FALSE?

Rays and skates are cousins of sharks: TRUE or FALSE?

There are 47 different species of rays and skates: TRUE or FALSE?

Unlike sharks, rays and skates have no teeth: TRUE or FALSE?

FALSE!
 Rays and skates have small teeth, to catch and eat their prey.